The Ritz-Carlton New York, Central Park

THE 33-STORY RITZ-CARLTON NEW YORK, Central Park boasts the residential ambience of an elegant New York townhouse and comprises 259 guest rooms, including 47 suites and 12 luxury residences, as well as a world-class spa and a museum-quality art collection. Among the hotel's accommodations are three standouts: The Ritz-Carlton, Royal, and Central Park Suites.

The 1,530-square-foot, one-bedroom Ritz-Carlton and Royal Suites are located on the 21st and 22nd floors, respectively, and feature spacious living rooms, dining rooms that seat eight, Bang & Olufsen televisions and stereo systems, DVD players, and custom-designed Pratesi linens. After indulging themselves in the suites' marble tubs – from which they can watch one of the two 12-inch flat-screen televisions installed in the bathrooms – and pampering themselves with exclusive Frédéric Fekkai and Côté Bastide amenities, guests can lounge in linen and plush terry robes or stargaze through floor-model telescopes. An adjoining 465-square-foot bedroom with bath can be added to either suite upon request.

Located on the third floor of the hotel, directly overlooking the New York landmark for which it is named, the Central Park Suite measures 1,900 square feet and features one bedroom, one and a half bathrooms, two living rooms, a large entry foyer, and a dining room with an adjacent pantry and private service entrance. The suite is also appointed with such lush amenities as 700-thread-count linens, linen and terry robes, and Frette candles – not to mention a marble soaking tub, with a separate stall shower. An in-room safe, wireless Internet access, and a multiline cordless telephone with voicemail and data-line capabilities provide guests with modern-day conveniences, as they ensconce themselves in the suite's luxurious surroundings. As with the Ritz-Carlton and Royal Suites, an adjoining bedroom with bath is available upon request. In addition, guests of all three suites receive complimentary access to the Ritz-Carlton Club Lounge. ●
