

Editors' CHOICE

Siam Kempinski Hotel Bangkok

Siam Kempinski Hotel pool (top left); lobby (top right); Sra Bua by Kiin Kiin restaurant (center left); Kempinski The Spa suite (above); Brasserie Europa restaurant (center right); Royal Suite rooftop pool, dining area with the living area in the background, and bar (bottom left to right)

THERE IS A NEW HOTEL IN BANGKOK THAT has put together every convenience for the visiting executive from special boardrooms to special meeting rooms to special suites.

The best technological amenities have been built into the Siam Kempinski Hotel, which is one of the flagships of the Kempinski chain of excellent hotels around the world.

The property is centrally located in the center of the business district and shaped like an oval, inside of which visitors can relax in a lush garden and tropical forest with multiple swimming pools. It's a peaceful spot shielded from loud noises and can be utilized for business or pleasure since every possible facility is offered there.

Overlooking the garden, the Gym provides the latest cardio- and strength-conditioning equipment as well as complimentary recreational activities such as yoga, aerobics, and Muay Thai.

With eight treatment rooms and a relaxation room, Kempinski The Spa is a magical getaway from the bustling city. There are also a few saltwater pools on site.

The Business Centre offers photocopying, printing and scanning, video-conferencing, Internet computer stations, and meeting rooms.

For guests looking to venture outside of the property, the concierge can arrange a private BMW 7-Series limousine or Volkswagen VIP van for airport transfers and other select destinations.

The property boasts 303 rooms (including 42 suites), as well as 98 serviced residences offering luxurious fabrics and furnishings.

There is no shortage of dining options on site including Brasserie Europa for European brasserie-style cuisine or Sra Bua by Kiin Kiin restaurant for contemporary Thai dishes. Pre-dinner drinks can be enjoyed at the 1897 Bar.

For those seeking meetings or events space, the spectacular Chadra Ballroom is available as well as a selection of other meeting rooms and professional support services.

Bangkok is a city known for its hospitality and the Siam Kempinski Hotel is a fantastic reflection of this supreme level of service. ●

