

Editors' CHOICE

Four Seasons Resort Orlando at Walt Disney World Resort

WITH ITS IDEAL LOCATION WITHIN THE RESIDENTIAL COMMUNITY of Golden Oak at Walt Disney World Resort, the new Four Seasons Resort Orlando (fourseasons.com/Orlando) is just minutes from all the attractions via complimentary Four Seasons motor coaches or private luxury sedans.

Guests can choose from 443 modern, airy rooms including 68 suites, with configuration options tailored for couples and individuals, and families and friends travelling together. The resort's rooms are the largest in Orlando, and each has a wide, furnished terrace to enjoy the Florida sunshine and views across 26.5 acres of lushly landscaped grounds, including gardens, a lake, and golf course. Many rooms also offer unobstructed views of the nightly fireworks at Magic Kingdom Park.

Five acres of fun are packed onto the resort's own Explorer Island. There's something for everyone, including the 7,590-square-foot family pool, beach volleyball, a rock climbing wall, and smokehouse barbecue at PB+G. There's also a lazy river winding around a "ruined" mansion, an expansive Splash Zone with dozens of choreographed water jets, a climbing wall and waterslides, and a video-gaming center. Four Seasons Resort Orlando also boasts three on-site Har-Tru tennis courts, an adults-only pool surrounded by private cabanas and reserved for guests 21 and older, and a 24-hour fitness center.

In addition to PB+G and Plancha at the golf clubhouse, Four Seasons Resort Orlando offers Ravello, a modern Italian restaurant and a vibrant bar; Capa, the rooftop Spanish style steakhouse; and Lickety Split, the resort's gourmet coffee shop.

Guests who are seeking additional pampering will revel in the spa offerings, which include 18 luxuriant treatment rooms, the Experience Showers, the Aroma Design Bar, and a hair, nail, and beauty salon.

With 37,750 square feet of event space – much of it naturally lit – and the expert planning and attention to detail of Four Seasons event specialists, hosting an event on site is a snap. Four Seasons Resort Orlando can accommodate everything from an intimate board of directors meeting to a memorable conference.

There is no shortage of incredible options to choose from at the top-line Four Seasons Resort Orlando. ●

Clockwise from above: Four Seasons Resort Orlando is a 26-acre lakeside resort featuring a Spanish Revival design; Capa, the rooftop Spanish style steakhouse, features a stunning view of the nightly Magic Kingdom Park fireworks; the interactive Splash Zone surrounded by "ruins", Park View rooms feature distinctive views of the Disney parks including views of the nightly fireworks. The rooms are the largest in Orlando, each with a furnished balcony.

