

Editors' CHOICE

The Mark Hotel

UPPER EAST SIDE-BASED, THE MARK HOTEL (THEMARKHOTEL.COM) FIRST opened its doors in 1927. Having undergone a total transformation overseen by legendary designer Jacques Grange, the elegant new design includes works created by celebrated artists who have been commissioned to create one-of-a-kind pieces. The Mark is located steps from Central Park, and world-renowned museums and galleries, and offers guests a stylish yet inviting location with access to the best Madison Avenue has to offer.

The Mark provides an array of rooms and suites to suit any guest's needs. Each room is outfitted with state-of-the-art HD televisions and audio systems and a Crestron panel that controls temperature, entertainment, shades, and lighting with a single touch. The black-and-white marble bath features double-wash basins, a deep-soaking tub, and separate glass shower enclosure, both with polished nickel fittings by Lefroy Brooks. Other luxury touches include heated towel racks, a mirrored flat-screen television, separate telephone, and fine Italian toiletries formulated exclusively for The Mark. Additional amenities include a sleek black-granite bar with SubZero drawers, complimentary high-speed Wi-Fi and local calls, and daily shoeshine.

Diners will revel in the options available, as all outlets and in-room dining offerings are the impassioned concepts of globally acclaimed Chef Jean-Georges Vongerichten. The Mark Restaurant by Jean-Georges in NYC features a masterful design by Jacques Grange and an innovative restaurant menu specially crafted by its award-winning chef. The chic, lively Mark Bar, designed by Jacques Grange with specially made furnishings by Guy de Rougemont and Vladimir Kagan, is the most stylish meeting spot on Madison Avenue, ideal after work, before dinner, or after theater. This popular New York City lounge serves handcrafted classic and signature cocktails.

For those seeking a special event space, The Mark does not disappoint. The ambient, private Madison Room at the Jacques Grange-designed Mark Restaurant by Jean-Georges is ideal for both intimate celebrations and high-level business gatherings. The room can accommodate up to 24 guests for a sit down dinner or 30 guests for a cocktail reception. The restaurant is available for partial and full buy-out, large-scale receptions, and for seated events of up to 250 guests.

The Mark Hotel in New York is truly a destination unto itself. ●

Clockwise from top left: The Mark exterior; the lobby sitting area; the Mark Bar; the Mark Premier two-bedroom suite kitchen (right) and foyer and dining area (below)

