

The Scarlet Huntington

Top to bottom: The Mulholland Suite living area; Passion Suite dining area; Opulent Suite living and dining area

WITH ITS DEFINING CHARACTERISTICS RESPECTIVELY RETAINED, THE Scarlet Huntington (thescarlethotels.com/sf) upholds a tradition of high standards and gracious service. The majority of the former Huntington Hotel's devoted staff – many of whom have worked at the property for more than 20 years – greets guests with the same personalized service and attention that has graced the property with its iconic red façade for years. This San Francisco icon weaves together a vibrant Singapore luxurious bathrooms appointed with a vibrant backlit mirror, rainfall shower head, and thoughtfully selected Lime Bergamot L'Occitane bath products.

True to its name, the Passion Suite encapsulates an air of ardour and romanticism apparent from an alluring aesthetic dialogue of ruby, onyx, silver, and gold. The suite features an intimate dining area while the living area is crowned by a carved and gilded ceiling. The bedroom beckons with the promised indulgence of a creatively designed four-poster bed and cascading draperies, and wardrobes, cabinets, and drawers are stylish and well-appointed with black lacquer, black leather, and gold accents. Attractive window coverings are adorned with fascinating trimmings of patent leather by Sahco-Hesslein.

Straits Chinese heritage with the high-fashion luxury of Nob Hill. The Scarlet Huntington is an uninhibited haven in one of San Francisco's most alluring neighborhoods. While the property has been recreated as a chic and discerningly different boutique hotel with modern luxuries and comforts, the heart of The Scarlet Huntington remains, welcoming guests with the highest levels of service, warmth, and hospitality for which it has always been known.

The hotel boasts three magnificent suites, which cater to the most discerning of global travelers.

The Mulholland Suite truly embodies the spirit of Northern California. Each detail, from upholsteries to fine trims used in the bedding and throws, incorporates the leathers and rich materials used in Mulholland's luggage collections. Metallic finishes throughout the suite's interior are subtle nuances that reference not only the jewelry used on Mulholland bags but the hotel's Asian-inspired interiors. The décor also boasts a resemblance to the golden doors of another neighboring San Francisco landmark, Grace Cathedral. Guests will appreciate an array of indulgent comforts including a bedside Bluetooth entertainment system, dual-line telephone with private voice-mail, the finest Italian linens, lush terry cloth bathrobes, and Finally, an exuberant interplay of colors – magenta, imperial yellow, and platinum – welcomes guests into the Opulent Suite. Coupled with stunning views from atop Nob Hill overlooking downtown San Francisco and Union Square, guests will discover nuances of a vibrant Singapore Straits Chinese heritage, where The Scarlet brand originated, in the custom-designed etched glass dining table set beneath a glowing chandelier with lush magenta silk shades. The living area boasts a bespoke wing-backed curvaceous sofa upholstered in smooth magenta velvet with pillows covered in imperial yellow fabric by Highland Court. In the bedroom, a large dramatic headboard is hand-carved and upholstered in rich magenta, under which rests an inviting king-size bed and a stunning bolster covered in a dazzling imperial yellow and silver fabric by Osborne & Little.

The Scarlet Huntington ensures that every experience each guest enjoys will far surpass expectations, and that each stay becomes a memorable one. ●

