

Editors' CHOICE

Il Mulino New York

FOUNDED IN GREENWICH VILLAGE IN 1981, Il Mulino New York (ilmulino.com) is known as an intimate and esteemed eatery that serves local foodies in the know. The restaurant and its culture has blossomed into a culinary empire over 35 years, with nine luxury outposts across the globe that cater to tastemakers, celebrities, and dignitaries as far flung as Macau and San Juan, Puerto Rico. It has also expanded to include two innovative dining concepts, modern Italian at Trattoria Il Mulino in Gramercy-Flatiron and Il Mulino Prime, specializing in dry-aged prime cuts, in SoHo.

Alongside destination outposts around the world, Il Mulino New York invites guests to dine from home with the Il Mulino New York gourmet product line featuring exquisite sauces, pastas, infused olive oils, and more (ilmulino.com/shop). Ideal arrangements are prepared lovingly for both personal and professional purposes, designed to delight those lucky enough to be gifted them.

Trio di Sapore Organic, a gourmet gift set, is an intimate and all organic Italian feast for the home, showcasing the quality and beauty of Il Mulino New York's finest organic products. Those gifted can stir up an elegant meal with Il Mulino New York Organic Tomato Basil Sauce and Organic Pastas, packaged elegantly in an environmentally friendly box with a signature wooden spoon to tend to all of one's cooking endeavors.

Il Mulino New York launched a new range of lovely organic products and they are in the process of finalizing an additional selection of new corporate gifts/baskets that they are excited to share in the near future. ●

Il Mulino New York's gourmet product line includes exquisite sauces, pastas, and infused olive oils, and soon will include an additional selection of new corporate gifts and gift baskets (top); Il Mulino New York - Downtown restaurant on Manhattan's West 3rd Street (left)